

LONG LIVED TV TROPES

long lost relative tv tropes

Our hero or heroine meets someone who they seem to share a number of traits with. The story progresses, and they find themselves working together, at cross-purposes, or drawing together romantically.. And then â€” The Reveal. The reason our hero has found that other person uncannily familiar or compellingly attractive is that the new person is a Long Lost Relative they may never have known they ...

cabin fever tv tropes

"Cabin Fever" is a term for a psychological reaction closely related to claustrophobia, that takes place when a person or group is confined to a small isolated space for an extended period of time (this might be a ship, a cabin in a storm, a space rocket etc.) Symptoms include restlessness, irritability, and distrust towards others and an urgent need to go outside, even if it is physically ...